FUNDS EXHAUSTED. The East Washington Free Dispensary

Compelled to Close Its Doors. After a long struggle for existence the East Washington Hospital and Free Dispensary, located at the corner of Eighth and L streets southeast, has been compelled to cease operations.

The institution was started about two months ago, and on its register are about 500 names of poor people who have re-ceived its benefits. Its medical staff have attended faithfully to their duties, which was often done at personal sacrifice. Mr Frank P. Weller, the well-known Eas Washington druggist, has supplied medi-cines at cost price, and up to the present writing has not received pay for them. The residents of the eastern section of the city are in a great way responsible for the failure of the institution, in not conthe failure of the institution, in not con-tributing to its finances. The District Commissioners have been appealed to fre-quently, but they have not responded, and for a lack of funds, and no other cause, one of the most charitable institu-tions which East Washington ever had has been compelled to close its doors.

At the next corner the buggy was demolished.

A Brutal Husband.

A Brutal Husband.

A brutal wife-beater, named John Miner, of 2218 Virginia avenue, caused some excitement in the Police Court this morning. His wife, Amelia Miner, charged him with assault. She stated that he kicked her in the abdomen and otherwise beat her. The prisoner flourished a strap in the dock and said: "Yes, I whipped her; she is my wife and I have a right to whip her. I whipped her because she would not correct my child, and I will whip her, Judge or no Judge, and I don't care what they do with me." The Judge fined him $20 for the assault and put him under $300 bail to keep the peace for six months. peace for six months.

Bescued from Ruin. Policeman O'Neill, who has been de-tailed for duty in connection with the Humane Society, brought into the Police Court this morning a pretty little six-year old girl named Grace Estelle Burke. He stated that he took her out of a house of prostitution—No. 327 Maryland avenue—inder the new law against children under fourteen years of age being in such houses. The child was sent to St. Vincent's Orphan

AMUSEMENTS.

THE MEXICAN OBCHESTRA. - Rarely is Washington audience aroused to such a high pitch of enthusiasm as was the audience that assembled at Ford's last evening to hear the famous Mexican orchestra. A musical entertainment is generally half over before the cold reserve with which a Washington assemblage surrounds itself is penetrated. But last evening hardly had the last, sweet note of the first selec-tion died away when the entire gathering broke into one impulsive storm of ap-plause. Such enthusiasm over a musical performance has not been seen since the performances of the Milan Opera Com-pany. It is safe to predict that there will be no vacant seats at Ford's during the

be no vacant seats at Ford's during the engagement. The musicians were in Mexican costume, and the stage was set with a beautiful tropical scene. The Orchestra is made up of six bandolous, two violins, two violoncellos, three guitars, two salteries, one harp, and one flute. The effect that is produced is delightful, and the full power of the orchestra is brought out by the skillful selection of a programme which is well adapted to the instruments. Last evening the overtures "Raymond" and "Plaque Dame" were so exqusitely played that encores were demanded and graciously given. Schubert's serenade could not have been rendered with more feeling. In fact, feeling and expression is the characteristic of the orchestra's playing. The bandolon solo by chestra's playing. The bandolon solo by Senor Zarinana, the xylophone solo by Senor Carlos Carti, were also encored, as well as the violin solo by Senor Figuero, which was the feature of the evening. The Mexican orchestra will continue their concerts until Wednesday night, with a change of programme and solo-

"IOLANTHE" AT ALBAUGH'S.—"Iolanthe" was carefully rehearsed by the Beebe Company at Albaugh's last week and a wonderful degree of efficiency was attained. The company takes great interest tained. The company takes great interest in the opera and the choruses are sung with a will. A very good performance may be expected to-night. Mr. S. W. Keen, who will sing the role of Stuphon, is a Washington man and made a good record in "Patience" as the Colonel, when it was produced here. Mr. Imano finished his engagement with the company on Saturday night, and the "Sentinel's Song" will be rendered by Mr. Sandford, who has a very rich and deep voice. Mr. Fort, the manager, has given specual attention to the scenic effects and costuming, and the opera will be handsomely mounted. Mr. De Lange is working on a new topical song. new topical song.
